"Dogs, Dads and Daughters"

Dear Roger and Deb,

Thank you for the update on the dogs. I will be looking for a female Brittany pup not related to Dusty sometime soon. I hope that you enjoy the pictures of Dusty! He's just a gorgeous dog especially when he is into the birds. It's awesome to watch him work the field zoning in on the prey. He is an amazing Brittany and has far exceeded any dreams or hopes my dad and I had for him already. We can't wait for next year's hunting season! This little dog has changed our lives and most especially enriched my father's and my relationship. We are making many precious memories and for that I will be forever grateful to you for selling me this dog. After bringing Dusty home, we set about making a Johnny house and have been steadily working him on the quail. He's very birdy! We were even able to take him out to western Kansas this year to hunt for pheasant. Both my dad and I agreed that the father/daughter trip wasn't about shooting lots of birds, it was about the joy of watching the dog work. We were both shocked at Dusty's stamina and ability to maintain such a level of high energy. Neither of us had expected to see the little guy hunt his heart out like he did. Both Dad and I were exhausted well before the dog was...hahaha. We spent the night at a hotel in Great Bend prior to our big day. My dad was so excited about the dog and the hunt that he couldn't stop talking even when the lights went out! It's been a very long time since I have seen my dad so cheerful and excited about something. Every day the telephone conversation is the same, "When are you going to bring the dog out". Dad even fixed up a huge outdoor pen for Dusty, just in case I needed to leave him with Dad when I have to go out of town. It's just wonderful to see my dad getting outside, exercising and enjoying life again.

Once again, thank you so much. I've been amazed at how easy Dusty has been able to train and how well he has adapted to my children. He's already crate trained and does well inside the house. The kids love him too! He's just such a gift for all of us. Thank you, thank you, thank you!
